

CARBON FOOTPRINTING

Are you considering your impact on the planet and how you may be able to get to net zero, but do not know where to start? We can help!

Albert Goodman are able to work with organisations and individuals to calculate their carbon footprint for both voluntary or regulated reporting purposes.

We follow the guidelines of the Streamlined Energy and Carbon Regulations in calculating carbon footprints, covering both scope 1 (emissions from activities owned or controlled by your organisation) and scope 2 emissions (emissions released into the atmosphere which are associated with your consumption of electricity, heat, steam and cooling) as well as business mileage as part of scope 3.

The costs associated with carbon footprinting start from £1100+VAT and are dependent on the size of the organisation and the scope of the project.

Once you have your carbon footprint we can further support you with understanding the information and developing a strategy to enhance the sustainability of your business.
